

On the last day of the FYNH – Find Yourself in the Heart of Nature project (Erasmus+ project), students were challenged to present a report of the week, each group should summarize one of the days and another group was responsible for collecting testimonies of the Erasmus+ experience. Students and teachers who are partners in this project were unanimous in considering this experience as very enriching, they enjoyed getting to know the city of Porto and AEViso, highlighted the activities that were developed within the scope of the project and this week brought new friends and new horizons. An experience they would love to repeat!

And we are pleased to share your messages:

Everything has been carried out to involve students participation in everyday activities. They learned how beautiful and important nature is in a our lives. Visiting historical sites together and the beauty of natural landscape make them appreciate the pleasure of travelling and meeting new friends.

Patrizia Olivo, General Coordinator of the FYNH project, Italy

It was a really nice week that proved to the students and to us that Erasmus is much more than just traveling and even though my girls weren't the most active once it was nice to see that they cared about everybody enough to cry.. I hope that next tome we will have more luck with the weather 😊 but despite the rain it was amazing. Much more than I expected 🌟

Paulina Rzepecka, Coordinator of the project in Poland

The week was one of the most important and beautiful of my life and it allowed me to broaden my horizons and make new friends.

Giovanni Pulella, student from Italy

This week was special because we had the plasure to know not only a new place but also other cultures, languages but especially people. I think that we will not forget this experience. Now we have the possibility to see the world in another way. I think that this is the goals of the Erasmus and I'm proud to be part of this project.

Marianna Pintaudi, student from Italy

I think this Erasmus was unique in the world. I met new people and cultures. I really understood the importance of this path only at the end, when in tears I greeted my friends, humble people who respected me. I will miss them so much.

Giada Bruno, student from Italy

I miss this week and i hope this project gonna be love from many students.

Wiktoria Kowalczyk, student from Poland

This was a real nice week. Activities were real funny. The teachers and students were so nice to us.

Ece Ergün, student from Turkey

I think the week was an unique experience because I had never participated as much in the Erasmus+ project as during this week. It created bonds with my foreign colleagues and made new friends that I hope to see again in the future.

Bianca Monteiro, student at AEViso Porto

This week was one of the best weeks of my life, I will always remember all the new friends I met and all the new things I learned from them. I loved participating in this Erasmus + activity, I participated in all the activities and I loved seeing their commitment in all of them, I hope to see you all in the future.

Marisa Borges, student at AEViso Porto

It is with a full heart that I end this week of the FYHN's project, it was a week lived intensely by foreign students and teachers, but also by students, teachers, operational assistants and the entire AEViso Educational Community. A meeting of cultures, a sharing of experiences, new friendships that were born, moments that I believe will stay for life. Until the next reunion!

Marta Pinto, teacher at AEViso Porto

It is synergies like the ones we experience that allow us to promote an education of excellence.
